William Keim Added to Elite Group of Master Contractors

Committed to quality workmanship, customer service and assistance to building owners

KANSAS CITY, MO — Conklin Company, Inc. is proud to announce that William Keim, from Mansfield, Ohio, has completed the qualification process to achieve Master Contractor recognition for demonstrating superior system application and customer service. Celebrating 40 years in the roofing industry, Conklin's Master Contractors are the most qualified and informed installers of the reputable Conklin Roofing Systems.

Conklin Master Contractors are trained and educated to install Conklin's Energy Star-rated "Cool Roof" Systems. This elite group of contractors provide quality workmanship, outstanding customer service and knowledgeable assistance to building owners. Master Contractors have delivered unsurpassed quality for decades.

"Conklin provides a rigorous and comprehensive training program for its Roofing Systems which, along with continued technical support for Conklin Master Contractors, is the key to ensuring the performance of Conklin roofs," explained Beau McCoy, Conklin Building Products Marketing Director. "With a wide variety of building products offered by Conklin and the exceptional standard of training our company provides, our Master Contractors are able to meet almost any roofing challenge with a high-quality, long-term solution."

Conklin ensures that each applicant meets all standards of its Master Contractor qualification process: personally completing extensive training courses, agreeing to roof evaluations conducted by Conklin roofing inspectors, complying with Conklin construction methodology and not having any active warranty issues. In addition, applicants must demonstrate purchases that comply with the Master Contractor level over a three-year period.

Keim has more than 20 years of experience as a contractor. His business, First Class Roofing, has a reputation for integrity and demonstrates a commitment to quality and excellence in systems application, sales, service and professionalism.
